

Edward Elgar Publishing:
Handbook of Comparative Political Institutions
Edited by Adrian Vatter & Rahel Freiburghaus

TABLE OF CONTENTS

1. Introduction: History, contours, and current trends in the comparative study of political institutions
Adrian Vatter & Rahel Freiburghaus (University of Bern, Switzerland)

Part I. Theoretical and Methodological Foundations

2. Interpretative perspectives on political institutions
Mark Bevir (University of California/Berkeley, US)
3. Qualitative-comparative, set-theoretic, and case-based methods in the comparative study of political institutions
Claudius Wagemann (Goethe University Frankfurt, Germany)
4. Quantitative methods in the comparative study of political institutions
Josep M. Colomer (Georgetown University, US)
5. Experimental methods in the comparative study of political institutions
Lauren E. Young & Enrico Antonio Bonto la Vina (UC Davis, US)
6. Data, data collection, and (computational) data processing in the comparative study of political institutions
John D. Wilkerson (University of Washington, US)

Part II. Political Institutions in Comparative Perspective

8. Elections and electoral systems
*Matthew S. Shugart (University of California/Davis, US),
Jorge Fernandes (University of Lisbon, Portugal) &
Yael Shomer (Tel Aviv University, Israel)*

9. Political parties and party systems
Herbert J. Kitschelt (Duke University, US) & Philipp Rehm (Ohio State University, US)
10. Interest (advocacy) groups and interest (advocacy) group systems
Jan Beyers (University of Antwerp, Belgium)
11. Social movements
Marco Giugni (University of Geneva, Switzerland) & Maria Grasso (Queen Mary University of London, UK)
12. Political executives and executive politics
Rudy B. Andeweg (Leiden University, Netherlands)
13. Bureaucracy and comparative political administration
B. Guy Peters (University of Pittsburg, US)
14. Legislatures and legislative politics
Marc Debus (University of Mannheim, Germany) & Hanna Bäck (Lund University, Sweden)
15. Bicameralism
Sean Mueller (University of Lausanne, Switzerland)
16. Direct democracy and referendums
David Altman (Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile, Chile)
17. Constitutions and the rule of law
Astrid Lorenz (University of Leipzig, Germany)
18. Federalism and federal systems
Nathalie Behnke & Arthur Benz (TU Darmstadt, Germany)
19. Regional political institutions
Arjan H. Schakel & Alexander Verdoes (University of Bergen, Norway)
20. The comparative analysis of judicial behavior
Lee Epstein (Washington University in St. Louis, US)
21. Digital media and digital media systems
Edda Humprecht (Norwegian University of Science and Technology, Norway) & Laia Castro Herrero (University of Barcelona, Spain)
22. Democratic innovations and deliberative institutions: New forums of citizen participation (e.g., citizen assemblies, mini-publics)
Kimmo Grönlund (Åbo Akademi University, Finland) & Maija Setälä (University of Turku, Finland)

Part III. Origins, Interactions, Dynamics, Change, and Effects of Comparative Political Institutions

23. Origins, development, and decline of democracies:
the role of institutional factors
*Carl H. Knutsen (University of Oslo, Norway) &
Jan Teorell (Stockholm University, Sweden)*
24. Institutional change
*Fritz Sager (University of Bern, Switzerland),
Markus Hinterleitner (University of München, Germany) &
Kathleen Thelen (MIT, US)*
25. Power concentration and power diffusion:
A new typology of political-institutional patterns of democracy
*Julian Bernauer (University of Mannheim, Germany) &
Adrian Vatter (University of Bern, Switzerland)*
26. Beyond presidentialism and parliamentarism: A new typology of political-institutional design and the separation of power
Steffen Ganghof (University of Potsdam, Germany)
27. Policy effects of political institutions in a comparative perspective
*Christoph Knill &
Yves Steinebach (University of München, Germany)*
28. Effects on politics (e.g., representation, corruption)
Alice Mattoni (University of Bologna, Italy) & TBC
29. Institutional effects on the economy
TBC
30. Political institutions and political support
*Julian Erhardt &
Markus Freitag (University of Bern, Switzerland)*

Part IV. Outlook

31. Half a century of institutionalism(s):
Taking stock—and looking to the future
B. Guy Peters (University of Pittsburg, US)